

The book was found

Inflection Point

Synopsis

Replete with intrigue, Inflection Point is the true story of the author and her legal team at Pfizer who found themselves at the epicenter of the decade long, world-wide, multi-billion battle for control over the world's most prescribed pharmaceutical product, Lipitor®. The author charts the course of the team's courageous effort to protect the company's most prized asset, and the unforeseen personal consequences suffered as a result. In New York, London, Paris, Copenhagen, and Ottawa, from the White House to Wall Street, in boardrooms and courtrooms, in the media and behind closed doors, critical disputes are won and lost in a struggle for survival. Inflection Point is a fast-paced, high-stakes legal thriller and memoir. But it is also a cautionary tale posing a question as fundamental as it is critical: Have the efforts to bring affordable medicines to consumers helped to cripple the very industry that invents life-saving drugs in the first place?

Book Information

Hardcover: 238 pages

Publisher: Pegasusbooks (May 2, 2016)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 1941859429

ISBN-13: 978-1941859421

Product Dimensions: 6 x 0.7 x 9 inches

Shipping Weight: 1.6 pounds (View shipping rates and policies)

Average Customer Review: 4.6 out of 5 stars See all reviews (12 customer reviews)

Best Sellers Rank: #185,700 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #9 in Books > Law > Intellectual Property > Patent, Trademark & Copyright > Patent #27 in Books > Business & Money > Industries > Pharmaceutical & Biotechnology #175 in Books > Law > Legal History

Customer Reviews

When I think of lawyerly writing, I don't necessarily think of writing that moves me. Henceforth, herewiths and theretos may serve a high and noble purpose, but they aren't exactly evocative. But Medford-Rosow's writing is evocative and so is her story. Her heart is big. Just how big is immediately apparent from the book's early version of herself as a protective older sister. And it's a heart that never shrinks as the youthful competitive swimmer she was in Virginia travels to Manhattan and evolves as a big fish in the giant pond of Big Pharma. It's the heyday of Lipitor and she heads up IP at drug giant Pfizer. The bulk of the book's legal drama focuses on an epic threat to Lipitor's patent that chews up years of her legal wits, attention and energy. It's exciting stuff and makes for engaging reading. That's because Medford-Rosow's story cleverly doubles the meaning of IP to not only represent the standard "Intellectual Property", as in Pfizer's gold-plated statin, but to also stand for "Inflection Point", her personal navigation through the corporate pressure cooker as the pill maker becomes pill crusher and she must get out or risk being ground to powder. If you think only blue-collar types suffer from work-related injuries, read the chronicling of her physical battle wounds as her white collar pressures intensify and try not to make a comparison to other types of workplace maladies (I thought of coal workers' black lung disease and the knocked out teeth of hockey players). Questioning her fortitude as the legal battle lumbers on, the author looks back in time, back to Virginia, back to her childhood homestead to see exactly how she got where she is and what it is that makes her stay.

Download to continue reading...

Inflection Point
Inflection Point: War And Sacrifice In Corporate America
The West Point History of the Civil War (The West Point History of Warfare Series)
West Point Atlas for the American Civil War (The West Point Military History Series)
Bunny Williams' Point of View
Vanishing Point: Perspective for Comics from the Ground Up
Starting Point, 1979-1996
The Point of Purchase Design Annual, No.9
Point of Purchase Design Annual Number 8
Our Point of View: Fourteen Years at a Maine Lighthouse
Beyond Point-and-Shoot: Learning to Use a Digital SLR or Interchangeable-Lens Camera
Lewis Baltz: Candlestick Point
The Tipping Point: How Little Things Can Make a Big Difference
Countdown to My Birth: A day by day account from your baby's point of view
Who Built the Pyramids? (Starting Point History Series)
Hiroshima: The Shadow of the Bomb (Point of Impact)
Sterling Point Books
Stampede for Gold: The Story of the Klondike Rush
Point Guard Prank (Jake Maddox Sports Stories)
The Last Point
Starting Point Conversation Guide
Revised Edition: A Conversation About Faith

Dmca